MEET STEVE

An award-winning international personality in the field of therapeutic humor and laughter, Steve Wilson's work as a clinical psychologist crystallized his thinking about the relationships between humor and mental wellness. Now retired from the practice of psychotherapy, Steve continues to intertwine substance and humor in ways you never imagined.

President of The World Laughter Tour, an organization that promotes health, happiness, and world peace through laughter, he innovated the popular program, "How to Create Therapeutic Laughter." His therapeutic programs are used by thousands of people at work, in schools, hospitals, healthcare, treatment support groups, nursing homes, and more.

Director of National Humor Month, he is one of America's top-rated speakers.

Steve serves on the Advisory Committee of the Human Services Department training program at Columbus State Community College, where he is the honoree of the Stephen H. Wilson Scholarship Fund. As an internationally acclaimed advocate for the benefits of laughter, he received the 2007 Golden Laughter Award from the French School of Laughter. Steve has earned the designation of Certified Speaking Professional from the National Speakers Association and is the 2010 recipient of the Lifetime Achievement Award from the Association for Applied and Therapeutic Humor.

Steve will present reflections, perspectives, and a practical framework for how laughter and humor enhance health and happiness.

Steve and his wife, Pam, are the joyful grandparents of the ten smartest, funniest, most beautiful children in North America, all boys except for six.
